THE LOUISVILLE DAILY DEMOCRAT.

VOLUME XXIII.

We take the following report of a eech of Mr. Brown, ln Lexiugton, from

LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY: SUNDAY MORNING, JULY 14, 1867.

"Our Spushine.

Onr esteemed contributor is always

A Letter from Mr. Brinly. We call attention to the letter of Mr. welcome to our columns: Brinly, one of the best and most thor ngh mechanics in Louisville-the maker of that lamous Briniy plow, whose use fulness every farmer in Kentucky had acknowledged. The interests of the mechanics in this city are far too unuch neglected, and the competition with convict laber is dis raceful. It is just as well for the people of Incina to buy their own convicts' laber, without sending it to Kentucky and putting the Louisville brand on it Mr. Brinly's letter is on a sal ject to v hich we have heretofore call-

The money market presents no variation of note. The bunks hold balances more than adequate to supply the current limited demand for money, and meet all applications on good securities, at la5 per cent. At the interior commercial rities there is a tendency in exchanges to turn against this center, especially Cincinnan and Chicago, and ibe time must be considered past for our being enabled to draw currency from the cauntry banks. It is not, however, probable that any outflow of currency of importance will be experienced.

There is a disposition to treat lusiness credits with caution. The fribures in the dry goods trade are looked upon as the dry goods trade are looked upon as the result of losses common, more or less, to all branches of trade; and it is considered by no means certain that the end of the losses has yet come. Really prime notes are current at fa? per cent., but other grades are weak and very irregular in rates.
